“Attending workshops has had a significant positive impact on both me and my business. By leveraging technology in agriculture, I have gained valuable insights into how to increase my harvest yield. Additionally, I was inspired by the various strategies used in the food chain, including processing techniques that add value to my harvest. My mentor, Yaa Kusi Binka, played an instrumental role in guiding me towards my vision and helping me devise plans to diversify my crops in order to meet market demands. I am immensely grateful for her efforts and encouragement.”
