

MENTEE

Olapeju Umah

Founder and Head of Operations,
MyFoodAngels, Nigeria

Website • Instagram • Twitter • Facebook

Olapeju Umah is a women-entrepreneurs advocate, enthusiastic about Africa's poverty alleviation and building healthier communities across Africa using Tech. She is the Founder of Mile12marketwoman and MyFoodAngels in Nigeria. MyFoodAngels is a FoodTech platform and agricultural hub founded in 2018, with the objective of closing the gap of access to organic farm produce by connecting farmers and consumers. Through the platform, they are solving the 40% post-harvest loss (valued at $7.2 billion in Nigeria alone) experienced by farmers and creating easy access to farm-fresh food for consumers using tech. Mile12marketwoman addresses peculiarly Nigerian challenges of dire post-harvest loss and insufficiency of direct organic farm-to-table produce.

MENTOR

Hazel Awino

Chief Executive Officer, Agri Innovation Hub, Kenya

agritechinnovationhub.com