

MENTEE

Elizabeth Koigi

Founder, Ndogo Farms

Kenya

Elizabeth Koigi is a mother, wife, an environmentalist at heart and the founder of Ndogo Farms which is a social enterprise that assists urban dwellers to access healthy and organically grown food at the access of their own homes using urban gardening systems. Her passion for the environment and gardening led her to create an enterprise that not only ensures people have access to healthy vegetables but also provides greenery for the environment. She has been in programmes like AWE, REVuP women, African innovation fellowship and African regional competition by Venture cup China. She has also been featured on mainstream media station such as Citizen tv, KBC and KTN.

Ndogo Farms

Ndogo Farms is a social enterprise that shows urban dwellers how they can convert their small space into gardens in order for them to access organically grown food. The company converts small spaces using vertical gardens, raised beds and grow bag gardening systems.

MENTOR

Mary Ann Sayoc

Public Affairs Lead,
East West Seed International