

Commit to grow equality:

A global commitment to enhancing gender equality in agrifood systems through financing and partnerships by 2030

September 25, 2024
8:00 – 9:15 am EDT

Pritchett Conference Room,
TIAA Offices, 730 3rd Avenue,
NYC (Between 45th & 46th streets)

Confirm your participation to RSVP@emergingag.com
no later than September 20, 2024.

In support of the FAO's Commit to Grow Equality (CGE) initiative, the International Agri-Food Network (IAFN) is organizing a side event during Climate Week 2024 in New York City designed to engage agrifood system companies on this new effort. The event will feature business leaders discussing the successes – and pain points – of current investments and programs designed to enhance gender equality and women's empowerment in agrifood systems. The event will feature senior leadership from FAO presenting the CGE commitment matrix, which underlines the initiative, and present a pathway for companies to join this growing movement.

Speakers

Mr. Michael Keller
Chair, International Agri-Food Network (IAFN) and Secretary General, International Seed Federation

Dr. Lauren Phillips
Deputy Director, Rural Transformation and Gender Equality Division

Ms. Amy O'Brien
Global Head of Responsible Investing, Nuveen, TIAA

Ms. Marilyn Hershey
Chair of Dairy Management Inc., Past Chair of U.S. Farmers & Ranchers in Action

Ms. Meriem El Asraoui,
Chief Global Affairs Officer, OCP

Ms. Tracey Duffey
Head of Strategic Partnerships, Sustainability Practice, OFI